

Smart Squash Talent Identification & Match Prediction System

This project presents an AI-powered system for squash talent identification using textual data, pose detection from video, and match outcome prediction. The system analyzes physical attributes, movement quality, and historical performance to recommend suitable athletic paths and predict match results.